

QI Hub

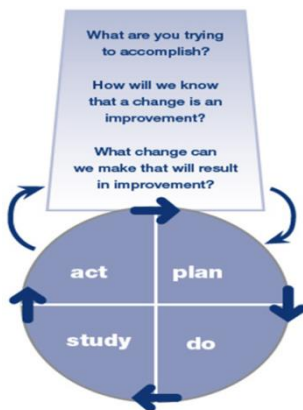

“a resource for health and social care staff using quality improvement approaches as a core part of their work.”

What is Quality Improvement?

QI is a commitment to continuously improving the quality of healthcare, focusing on the preferences and needs of the people who use services. (Royal College of General Practitioners 2017)

“In order to practise medicine in the 21st century, a core understanding of quality improvement is as important as our understanding of anatomy, physiology and biochemistry”. (Stephen Powis, Medical Director, Royal Free London NHS Foundation Trust, 2015. Academy of Medical Royal Colleges)

Community of Safety and Improvement Practice (CSIP)

CSIP is a Wessex wide network that offers the opportunity to connect individuals and projects across health and care in areas of innovation, quality improvement and patient safety. It helps people to share successes, learn from each other and speed up the adoption of good practices that make a difference to our patients.

Regional events and annual conferences offer its members the opportunity to network, make contacts, pool ideas, share resources and engage with peer support in order to share and learn together across Wessex. The online community platform (LIFE) facilitates networking opportunities.

The LIFE QI system is a software application designed to support networking and QI project management and is available free to members of CSIP.

Membership of CSIP can be requested via: <https://surveymonkey.co.uk/r/WessexCSIP>
